Our Mosma, June H. 1882.

Last Saturday we were signalled to get under weigh and chase a strange sail to the southward and eastward, which we did about five o'clock, with the utmost dispatch, all the departments working most energetically. It proved to be a fast steamer that had ineffectually attempted to run into Mobile, but falled to make the entrance till too late in the day. The chase became lively in the extreme, pacticularly as the steamer R. R. Cuyler, the most active blockader in the fleet was dispatched also to overhaul the prize; and as there had been a dealer all along for an opportunity to give here area, we went at it with a will, the deck hands, as well as the freman and coal passers, taking a most lively interest in the affair, some making beet that the Cuyler would overtake as will as the freman and coal passers, taking a most lively interest in the affair, some making beet that the Cuyler would overtake as will as the fremen and coal passers, taking a most lively interest in the affair, some making beet that the Cuyler would overtake as while others as strongly urged that she could not do it. I was trying to secure a bet that was offered by the Paymaster's clerk, viz, of distinct the could be besten by the Cuyler before 11 o'clock; but he backed out. During the first watch one of the blower belts was carried away, but in spite of this accident we succeeded in carrying the best "artick" through the chaen, having at one time as high as pirity-two pounds, the engine making sixty-two pounds, the engine making sixty-two revolutions. This would not have been entraordinary if the channel way for the blowers had not been chromatness it was considered very good. The Battle of Fall-

GEN. KILPATRICK.

Major Ges. Mallech, Commander-in-Chiot, Wash-ington;

My attention has been estled to what purports to be an official dispation of Gen. R. E. Lee, commanding the Confiderate army, to Gen. S. Cooper, Adjustant and Inapoctor General, denying the accuracy of my telegram to you of July 16, announcing the result of the cavairy affair at Falling Waters.

I have delayed taking any notice of Gen. Lee's report until the return of Brig. Gen. Ripatrick, absent on leave, who commanded the cavairy on the occasion referred to, and on whose report from the field my telegram was lessed. I now enclose the official report of Brig. Gen. Ripatrick, made after his attention had been called to Gen. Lee's report. You will see that he relievates and proves most conclusively that Gen. Lee has been deceived by his anterdinates, or he would never, in the face of the facts now alleged, have made the assertions his report contains.

It appears that it was in erroring stating that not he had seen the body.

It is now accertained from the Richmond papers that Gen. Fettigrew, though mortally wous fled in the affilt, was taken to Winchester, where he subsequently fied.

The three battle flags captured on this occasion, and cent to Washington, belonged to the 40th, 47th and 36th Virginia regiments of infantry, ten Lee will surely acknowledge three were not left in the hands of stragglers "askep in barns."

Respectfully yours.

The Hon. John Hutchins, special agent of the Government at New Orleans, brings a most hopeful secount of the position of Union affairs in that section. The people al-most manimously admit that the rebellion is
